

LAST SHOT!

You may have noticed some games at your favorite Nebraska Lottery retailer are marked as Last Shot! games. These games have one top prize remaining and limited inventory. The Lottery is promoting these games in order to close games that have been on sale for an extended period.

Last Shot! games can be identified by the special Last Shot! stickers at the Scratch ticket display. A listing of current Last Shot! games is also available on the Prizes Remaining Sheet at retailers and at nelottery.com.

When you're selecting a Scratch ticket to buy, buying a Last Shot! game is always a good choice. Luke Foster of Wahoo won the last $100,000 top prize in the Pure Gold game in April 2013.

"Usually I'll buy the $20 tickets," said Foster. "When I saw the Last Shot! sticker on the Pure Gold game, I decided to give it a try. It paid off."

If you don't win playing a Last Shot! game, you can get a second chance to win in the Last Shot! player promotion. Just enter your non-winning tickets from any Last Shot! game online at nelottery.com for a chance to win a pack of Scratch tickets of your choice. One winner is drawn at the beginning of the month, so make sure to enter to win each month.

The next time you're buying a Scratch ticket, look for the Last Shot! logo. It just might open up a whole new way for you to win.

GREटना COUPLE CLAIMS POWERBALL JACKPOT

David and Erica Harrig of Gretna are Nebraska's 10th Powerball jackpot winners. The couple had one of two winning tickets in the nation for the $122.9 million Powerball jackpot on December 11, 2013.

David Harrig purchased the winning ticket at Speedee Mart in Gretna on Wednesday, December 11, at 1:34 p.m. CT. The ticket matched all six numbers from the December 11 Powerball drawing: 1, 10, 13, 18, 19 and Powerball 27. A second jackpot winning ticket was sold in Massachusetts, so the Harrig's share of the prize was split with the Massachusetts winner. The couple elected to take the cash option on their share of the jackpot, valued at $34.18 million.

At a news conference on December 17, the Harrigs were announced as Nebraska's newest millionaires by Gov. Dave Heineman. "Christmas came early for the Harrig family," said Gov. Heineman. "I am very happy for David and Erica, and I wish them all the best this holiday season."

Winning the jackpot was scary, but also fun, according to the couple. "Everybody knows you buy a ticket and you dream. And your numbers hit, it all goes out the window," said David Harrig. The Harrigs are planning carefully how to spend their prize money, but they indicated a few things that they had decided to buy: a red Corvette, their dream house, and a record player for David's mother. "His mom said she had all these records and nothing to play them on, so we said we could take care of that," said Erica Harrig.

This is the 10th Powerball jackpot won in Nebraska since the Nebraska Lottery began offering Powerball in 1994. The last time a Powerball jackpot was won in Nebraska occurred in February 2006, when a group of eight coworkers at a ConAgra Foods plant in Lincoln split a $365 million jackpot.
